Blum, Smog Boss Linsky Meet to Fight Air Pollution

Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer and Benjamin Linsky, chief of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District met yesterday to lay initial plans to fight smog and air pollution in this county.

In an interview with The Sun, Linsky and Blum said it was "imperative" that the public become aware of the dangers imposed by smog and air pollution.

"THE NEED for air pollution control in Contra Costa County is long overdue," said Blum. "It is long past the time for piecemeal correction."

"If you've ever been on a high point in this county and looked down to see the thousands of trash and grass fires burning; the smoke of the industries going full blast and the hundreds of thousands of cars and trucks on the roads, you know we've got to do something," Blum explained.

"We burn trash and grass without realizing that we are poisoning ourselves and our neighbors. There must not only be local controls but the entire problem must be faced at a regional level," stressed Blum.

LINSKY ADDED, "If we are not careful we will find ourselves in the same condition as the Los Angeles area. A public meeting will be held at the end of this month, (Legal notice will be made as to the time, date and place) to set down first rules and regulations of air pollution control.

"It will take from six to 18 months to have corrective measures installed in the larger industries. On the local level it will be a matter of public education," Linsky continued.

"WE MUST sit down with everyone and anyone who is interested either pro or con about air pollution control and start to grasp what the entire problem really entails," said Linsky.

"One serious plague in Contra Costa County is the open burning garbage disposal dumps. They are one perpetual mess; a habitat for rats and other vermin. The problem was taken care of in Vine Hill by the 'fill and cover system.' Not one thing is burned there, just covered over by bulldozers," Blum stated.

"Another problem is the automobile and truck. The mechanical device which would eliminate fumes is not half the problem to invent as the political problem of having legislation passed and enforced, forcing motorists to use such a device in their exhaust systems," Blum continued.

"EVERY DAY we (the county health department) check the amount of 'oxidants' in the air at two points, Richmond and Pittsburg. We find at times a great amount of organic compounds in the air.

"A simple test is to take a small strip of rubber and put it out in the open air, and leave it out, for a 24-hour period. Notice the amount of cracking in the rubber to determine the amount of injurious chemicals in the air," Blum advised.

"Tires in a smoggy community have a tendency to rot and crack. Ultra-violet rays act to hasten the rotting and cracking, so tires take a worse beating during the daytime hours than at night.

"TIRES ARE ONE thing, but, not the only thing that suffers from smog, the direct result of air pollution.

"Smog makes people sick. General symptoms are sinus trouble, burning eyes, runny nose and other discomforts which can be described as being a sickness."

Dr. Blum, in a letter to Linsky, last month, in an appeal for air pollution control in this county said: "The Bay breezes which people talk about as a perfect solution to our smog problems just don't exisit in Contra Costa County. We need legalized air pollution control with some teeth to it."

Linsky urged that residents of Central Contra Costa write to him or to Francis Dunn, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Air Pollution Control District and present viewpoints for consideration by the board. The district's address is Air Pollution Control District, Ferry Building, San Francisco.

THE BOARD OF directors of the district will meet in the board room of the Harbor Commissioners Wednesday at 10 a.m. to discuss an agenda for a public meeting. All meetings of the board are open to the public.

"The board is now fact finding, organizing and recruiting personnel," said Linsky.

"We hope to have first rules and regulations to present to the public by the fourth week in January. It will take about 15 days after the board meeting to advertise and call a public meeting," he explained.

Linsky is an engineer who has been active in air pollution control work for the past 8 years. He pointed out that the district was interested in obtaining the best professional personnel and not interested in political appointments. Prior to being called to San Francisco he was Air Pollution Control Director for the City of Detroit.

SIX COUNTIES, Alameda, Contra Costa, San Francisco, Santa Clara, San Mateo and Marin, are now included in the district. Three more, Napa, Solano and Sonoma, are expected to enter the district.

The decision to undergo extensive studies was reached at the December 13 meeting of the Air Pollution Control Board of Directors. At that time the board formally agreed that there is smog in the Bay Area.

"Just when the studies will start I don't know, but for the sake of our people and our agricultural areas, I hope it will be soon," Dr. Blum concluded.

Lafayette Youth Saves PH Man From Electrocution

Quick thinking on the part of a Lafayette youth probably saved the life of a Pleasant Hill Man New Years Day, according to Contra Costa County Sheriff's Deputies.

Philip Knobel, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knobel, 3713 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, was on his newspaper route and stopped in at Lafayette Rental, 3697 Mt. Diablo Boulevard to chat with Fred Salman, 48,347 Valley View Drive, Pleasant Hill, who was doing some electrical work.

Salman invited young Knobel to go water skiing in the afternoon, Knobel agreed and went on his way. Later, the youth decided to watch football games on TV and returned to the hardware store to tell Salman. Knobel found Salman on the floor with a "hot" 220 volt wire in each hand.

After failing to find the master switch to shut off the electricity, Knobel ran to call George Lavey, the owner of the store, who lives directly behind it. Lavey called Lafayette firemen. Salman was revided by a resuscitator operated by the firemen.

Salman was taken to Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek. He suffered third degree burns on both hands.

Salman told deputies that he did not know how long he had been "glued" to the wires. He was unable to release his grip.

Knobel, the Laveys and their three children visited Salman in the hospital Tuesday night and reported that doctors said Salman was in good condition.

Asked by The Sun what he did after the firemen came to the rescue, Knobel said: "I did all that I thought I should do so I went home to watch the Cotton Bowl game."

The youth is a freshman at Acalanes High School. His father was recommended for The Sun's Man of the Year award recently.

FROM HUNGARY to Orinda is quite a distance — but the bridge of human kindness spans it. The Emmerich Remenyik family, refugees from communist terror in Hungary, are living with the Jack Snyders in Orinda until they can establish their own home. Gathered at the Snyder home at 98 Hillcrest Drive with some of the gifts — household items — which Orindans have given to the Remenyiks are, left to right: In back — Mrs. Jack Snyder, Mrs. Emmerich (Gaby) Remenyik, Gaby Remenyik, 9; Emmerich Remenyik, Jack Snyder; seated in front—Puggy, the Snyder's dog; Johnny Snyder and Emmerich Remenyik Jr., each of these three 2½ years old.

Construction of New Substation Ready to Begin

Construction of the new sheriff's substation adjacent to the main Lafayette Fire House will begin early next week. Awaiting its completion, sheriff's deputies have moved into temporary quarters.

With the contract to build the new headquarters having been signed with Ernest Hollman of Concord December 27 by the Lafayette Fire Board, the structure is to be completed within 120 days after building begins.

The Fire Board received six bids for the work, but Hollman's low bid of $31,427 won the contract.

Deputies, having been forced to vacate their old substation at 2198 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Walnut Creek, moved into their temporary offices at 2082 Mt. Diablo Boulevard Monday.

They have taken a three-month lease on the building from Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kendall, of 15 Los Altos, Orinda, and "hope the new building will be finished before we have to renew the lease," according to Inspector Norman Wilson.

When the substation is finally established on the northwest corner of the Lafayette Fire House on Moraga Road, the local law enforcement forces will be operating out of a modernistic one-story building.

The cement block structure's facade will be covered with tile, and it will have a flat roof. Orinda architect Jack Buchter has drawn up the plans.

Wilson will be in charge of the new quarters and the 15 men working out of them. Inside the building there will be offices, a squad room, an interrogation room, a reception room and a lockup of two cells.

A 12-foot--wide driveway will separate the substation and the fire house. The sheriff's office will be about 66 feet deep. The front will be about 45 feet wide, and the structure will narrow to 17 feet at the rear.

The county will lease the new structure from the Lafayette Fire District for five years, with an option to renew, at a rental of approximately $168 a month.

Children Break Nine Windows

Two brothers, ages 8 and 4, and their sister, age 6, broke nine windows in a home on the northwest corner of Diablo Drive and Hillside last Sunday.

The house had been recently sold by Edward Trost of Martinez to the State of California for a freeway.

The children were released to their parents whose family quarrels have in the past been called to the attention of police.

Heart Drive To Begin In February

Nine Heart Associations in the Bay Aera will conduct their annual appeal for funds during Heart Month in February, it was announced today by Ray B. Wiser, chairman of the Board of the California Heart Association.

An independent drive in Contra Costa County will be held. On February 24, Heart Sunday, door-to-door collections will be made.

WISER POINTED out that heart disease is responsible for 54 per cent of the deaths in California and the leading cause of death beyond the age of 35.

A total of $447,693 was raised in 1956 by Bay Area County Heart Associations for scientific investigations of the causes and prevention of heart disease.

"More funds will be needed for next year," Mr. Wiser said, "to make this knowledge available to physicians, nurses and other health personnel to save lives and put cardiac patients back into a productive life."

Heading chapter efforts in Contra Costa County February's Heart Fund Drive will be Dr. James F. Embick Richmond.

General campaign chairman for the 1957 Heart Fund is William S. Palmer of Walnut Creek. Co-chairmen for West Contra Costa County are Frederick G. Cole and Marvin A. Joseph, both of Richmond.

CHAIRMAN for local communities include Mrs. J. H. Schwarck, Orinda; Mrs. Harold Robinson and Mrs. William Bolce, Lafayette; Chester Bekins, Walnut Creek; George Vargas, Danville; Walter Ratcliff, Concord.

Mrs. Boyd Olney, Jr., Pacheco; Dr. Edwin Boysen, Mrs. Harry Freed, Floyd Ries and Mrs. Melvin Stauffer, Pittsburg; and James DeFremery, Brentwood.

Apponitment of chairmen for Martinez, Alamo and Antioch will be announced soon, according to Palmer.

Film of Jungle Airplane Crash Shown to Rotary

The dramatic plane crash of an airplane in the wilds of New Guinea and the rescue operations which followed were shown on film and slides yesterday at the noon luncheon meeting of the Lafayette Rotary.

Narrating the showing was US Army Major Earle Walters, who was in charge of the rescue operations which lasted for close to a month.

Program chairman for the day was Larry Wright.

At the next Rotary meeting Thursday at 12:15 at Tunnel Inn, Carlyle Reed, assistant director of Water Resources for California, will give a report on the present condition of the state's water supply.

Making arrangements for the program is Warren Neufield.

Locals Help Give Refugee Family a Fresh Start Here

This might be the story of any average local family—children going to school, the father working hard, the family living comfortably and enjoying a wonderful Christmas recently.

But the family in this story is one which lived through weeks of terror and a desperate flight from oppression to finally find these things.

THEY ARE the Emmerich Remenyiks—a husband, wife, and two children—who have adopted Orinda, and been adopted by Orinda, following their escape from tyranny in Hungary.

Currently residing with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Snyder, of 98 Hillcrest Drive, the Remenyiks have fast been adjusting to this way of life. Nine-year-old Garby is a student at Glorietta School and Mr. Remenyik is employed at Snyder's bakery supply shop in Oakland.

But Christmas in Orinda was especially significant for the new local family. Having been living with the Snyders for just a couple of weeks, the Remenyik family was given an official welcome to the community at an open house Christmas Day at the Snyder home.

ARRIVING IN this area with a grand total of $3.81 after their escape from Budapest, the Remenyiks were given clothes and a few other necessities, but had little else with which to start their own home here.

The Christmas party went a long way in helping to solve the problem.

More than 100 neighbors attended the open house, and before the day was over the refugees were the owners of complete sets of linens, complete kitchen facilities and other gifts to delight each member of the family.

MANY OF THE linens were given as a Christmas gift by the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church of Orinda.

Various pieces of kitchen equipment, including a stove and refrigerator, were presented by individuals or groups of Orindans interested in seeing the family get a fresh start.

Toys and dolls galore were given Garby and her 2-year-old brother, Emmerich Jr. In fact, Garby got so many dolls (nine) she hardly knows what to do with them.

"I DON'T THINK she ever had one before," Mrs. Snyder told The Sun after the party.

But Garby, like any other little girl, was soon a very affectionate "mother" and playmate to her dolls.

When the last guests had left the Snyder home and the Hungarian family had a chance to look over the gifts they had received, they were awed.

"THIS WOULD be enough to start a shop in Hungary," said Remenyik, who had managed a small department store in Budapest.

"This would take us 12 years to get in Hungary," he added.

Now that they've met their neighbors and have become adjusted to local life, the Remenyiks are spending much of their spare time looking for a home of their own.

ACCORDING TO Snyder, Remenyik has been a very able worker in the shop, and is saving much of his pay for a down payment on a home.

Language barriers? The Remenyiks seem to have overcome them.

"Mr. Remenyik learned just as fast as onyone else in the shop," Snyder reported.

"MRS. REMENYIK is learning English very fast," said Mrs. Snyder. "She knew some English but hadn't used what little she knew for the past 12 years."

Garby, schoolmates, teachers and the Snyders agree, is doing, "just fine."

"In fact," Mrs. Snyder reported, "she's not only learning a lot of English but is teaching us some Hungarian."

Winter? Birdie Won't Believe It

Our weatherbird lost his head this week and sat on his perch chirping like the first robin of Spring.

"Silly," said we, "look at the calendar. It's the middle of wintar. Any self-respecting bird would fly south or somewhere."

But being a particularly dull bird, who can't read the calendar anyway, he advised us to look outside, quoth "Nevermore," and began to warble Mendelssohn's "Spring Song."

Sure enough, it was a grand day. No clouds, no rain, just a slightly chilly breeze.

That's the way it was all weather-week, as the following thermometer report will attest:

	High	Low
December 27	64	26
December 28	65	27
December 29	63	26
December 30	59	30
December 31	64	28

Road Job Marks Completed Unit At Subdivision

Laying of the road surfacing marked completion recently of the second unit of the Happy Valley Highlands development on the uplands south of Upper Happy Valley Road, Lafayette, according to Highland Estates, Inc., developers of the subdivision.

Two units, comprising 64 homesites, have been developed to date. Eventually the entire Happy Valley Highlands, when fully developed, will include about 200 acres.

Happy Valley Highlands was started three years ago. The half-acre homesites are for sale to individuals who then build their homes along personal lines, according to Jack Stoddard, president of Stoddard Realty Company, which is handling sale of property at the subdivision. Stoddard is one of the five partners in Highland Estates, Inc.

This development was chosen by the Hotpoint Appliance Company as the site for its "Home of the Future." This home was won in a national contest by an Oakland doctor's wife. The home is now under construction and upon completion will be open to the public for a limited time as a display of contemporary home construction and furnishing.

Orinda Association Elects 4 Directors

Cunningham, Twining, Mrs. Adie, Flint Win

Norman Cunningham, Fred Twining, Dorothy Adie and Arthur Flint have been elected to the Orinda Association board, an official count of the ballots disclosed Wednesday night.

At a special meeting for that purpose Wednesday night at Orinda School, the directors for 1956 tallied the ballots which had been turned in by members following the recent membership drive.

THE FOUR NEW directors are, respectively, from the four association areas where board vacancies have occurred, but all association members for 1957 throughout Orinda, were eligible to vote for all four directorships.

Outgoing directors are Mel Arighi, 1956 president; Mrs. Robert Harrison, Frederic Sawyer and Paul Pollaczek.

AS REPORTED by Mrs. Ritchie Ward, secretary, the balloting resulted in the following totals for candidates:

From the area in which Arighi lives—Cunningham, 651; Frank Shirey, 438.

From the area in which Mrs. Harrison lives—Fred Twining, 555; Robert Thaman, 463; Ted Taylor, 78.

From the area in which Sawyer lives—Mrs. Adie, 451; Vernon Axelson, 342; Clarence Betz, 309.

From the area in which Pollaczek lives—Flint, 541; Ned DeLaveaga, 411; Maynard Buehler, 159.

The four new directors will be welcomed at the first regular board meeting of the new year January 14 at 7:30 p.m. at Orinda School.

AT THAT SESSION the 1957 directors will elect officers for the year—a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

Officers for the past year, in addition to Arighi, president, and Mrs. Ward, secretary, have been Gene Estes, vice-president, and Marvin Baker, treasurer.

The four new directors will serve for two-year terms.

Holdover directors, whose terms will continue for another year, are Mrs. Ward, Estes, Baker, Bob Walpole and Holland DuBois.

Tunnel Funds Will Be Shared By 2 Counties

Contra Costa and Alameda Counties will share the state allocations for a second Broadway Tunnel "on a 50-50 basis," assistant District Engineer A. E. Simmons of the State Division of Highways said yesterday.

Simmons explained that this would be so because the county line almost divides the proposed tunnel in half.

The county line is midway in the present Broadway Low-Level Tunnel. The new tunnel being planned by the state engineers would be parallel to the present tunnel.

SIMMONS ADDED that this sharing of allocations would mean that about $4½ million would be allocated for work on the new tunnel in Contra Costa County, and that the same-size allocation would be made for work on the new tunnel in Alameda County.

The assistant district engineer pointed out that a future parallel Broadway Tunnel "does not seem to be in doubt," even though there are arguments over the routing of the remainder of the proposed new 6.4 mile freeway through Oakland to the Eastshore Freeway.

Although he expressed confidence that the second tunnel would be built some day, Simmons emphasized that he could not say when this would be.

SIMMONS STATED that the date of start of construction will depend on the eventual allocation of funds by the California Highway Commission and also on the outcome of the current hearings on the plans for the new tunnel and freeway.

When the plan was first announced in mid-November the Division of Highways District IV office in San Francisco estimated total cost of the proposed 6.4-mile tunnel-and-freeway project at $55 million.

This would be for rights-of-way acquisition and for construction, according to Cliff Birnie, senior highway engineer in charge of administration and public relations at the District IV office.

Nielsen 'Trains' for Job Of District 2 Supervisor

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL

At noon next Monday, in Martinez, Mel Nielsen of Lafayette will be sworn in as the new county supervisor from District 2, for a 4-year term.

Next Tuesday he will attend his first Board of Supervisors meeting in the capacity of supervisor.

But Nielsen, energetic 46-year-old successor to veteran Supervisor H. L. (Jack) Cummings, who is retiring after 24 years on the county board, hasn't been waiting until next week to devote many hours to county problems.

SINCE HIS ELECTION on November 6, Nielsen has attended every regular weekly board meeting (for each full session, from 9 a.m. until the agenda has been completed) and a special board meeting December 21.

A couple of weeks ago he was escorted by Probation Officer John Davis through the county office building in Richmond. He was introduced to department heads and assistants.

He has spent a couple of hours in the Probation Department, and he has "sat in" at Juvenile Court. And he's gone on a thorough tour of Juvenile Hall with Davis.

"MY PHONE has been ringing with problems," Nielsen said yesterday. "I feel fine, and I'm looking forward to serving as supervisor."

Regarding his virtual county activity even before he is supervisor, Nielsen said:

"I don't want to go in there and start to learn about county problems after I sit down as supervisor. I want to be of use to the county and the board."

NIELSEN ADDED that he plans to open an office in Lafayette soon, where he will have regular office hours from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays, and where the people of the district will be able to confer with him.

"I hope to establish this office at 3359-D Mt. Diablo Boulevard," he stated.

"I intend to cover other areas of the district personally, also — places such as Orinda, Danville, Crockett. My plan is to be in each community at least once every two weeks, probably meeting with local people at the local fire house."

NIELSEN SAID he intends to resign from the Lafayette Fire Board, of which he is secretary.

"I feel that someone else can devote the necessary time to that office, and I want to be able to give more time to supervisorial work," he explained.

In that connection, Nielsen declared that he will be able to devote all the time required — "full time if necessary" — to the job of supervisor.

He said that his business, the Lafayette Tire Service, won't interfere with this, since "Ernie Richards, the manager at my tire service, will be in charge, under my direction."

"He' been with me two years," Nielsen added.

RETURNING to the subject of supervisorial duties, Nielsen said:

"I want to see the big problems first-hand. I want to work with the people in the different areas. I want to try to stop some of these hassles in Martinez."

Nielsen lives at 3376 Ridge Road, Lafayette, with his wife, Cita, and their two children, Lance, 14, and Sheila, 11.

THE SUPERVISOR - ELECT emphasized he harbors no bitterness from the campaign for election, in which he defeated Clarence R. Wallace.

"I hope that the people who voted for my opponent realize that I'll be in there to represent the people of Contra Costa County and District 2," Nielsen said.

"I would appreciate their whole-hearted support — and I will give mine in return.

"Our goal should be to make this a better county in which to live — a county of which we will be proud. We should work out our problems together."

St. Mary's-Loyola Game Will Be Family Bargain!

Talk about bargains — and who doesn't? — the night of February 1 is really something to talk about now and to cheer about when it arrives.

That's the night that the Galloping Gaels of St. Mary's College and Loyola University of Los Angeles tangle on the basketball court of St. Mary's College in Moraga — the game which will offer the opportunity for dad and as many youngsters as he wishes to take, to enjoy The Sun's Father-and-Children Night.

This community project is sponsored by The Sun in cooperation with St. Mary's College, which is generously making available the facilities at the St. Mary's gym in Moraga.

ABOUT 700 SEATS have been reserved for the occasion. Future issues of The Sun will contain a coupon. With this coupon a father (or mother) may go to the February 1 game with as many youngsters up to the age of 16 as he (or she) wishes to take.

The adult will pay $1 for admission (instead of the regular $1.25 admission price)—and all the youngsters with him will be admitted free!

This will offer dads — and mothers, too, if they're basketball fans — and youngsters the chance for an enjoyable family "outing." What's more, the kids — and the adults as well — will be able to see some top-flight collegiate basketball.

THE FEBRUARY 1 GAME between St. Mary's and the Loyola Lions will be a regular league game of the California Basketball Association.

That there will be plenty of fast action is the promise of Jim Weaver, head coach of the St. Mary's basketball team, and Bill Donovan, head basketball coach at Loyola.

So — dads, mothers, kids — watch for the coupons in future issues of The Sun, and mark your calendar now for that thrill-packed family "outing" to the St. Mary's gym!

Views WC Area With Highway Plans

High on the priority list for 1958-59 state highway construction are three projects in the Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill areas, A. E. Simmons, assistant district engineer, Division of Highways, said today.

The projects would join Alamo and Danville with six miles of new concrete, the Monument and the City of Concord with three miles by a direct route, and the Monument and the Mratinez Bridge, about six miles apart.

ASSISTANT State Engineer B W. Booker will have these and two other possibilities at the top of his list this summer when he prepares recommendations for State Highway Engineer G. T. McCoy of Sacramento.

McCoy in turn will use them in outlining his recommendations to the Highway Commission.

The Commission will meet in the fall. Hearings will help its members to decide where millions of dollars in state money will go for new highways.

"FUNDS WILL be allocated to the projects which are considered the most distressed. The Alamo-Danville, and Monument jobs qualify," Simmons told The Sun.

"It will be up to the state highthese in making his recommendations to the commission.

"The other 'distressed' areas include portions of Highway 40 between the Alameda line and Jefferson Street in Richmond. That's about 5½ miles long," he continued.

"And there are top priority needs in the Antioch area, where industry has created heavy traffic conditions.

"All these will be considered on their merits," Simmons said.

SHOULD ONE or more of the local projects get the green light, highway work in the central county will proceed at a breathless pace for several years.

Already assured is money for the $7½ million Walnut Creek bypass, which will route traffic around Walnut Creek from three directions.

A mammoth three-level interchange at Oakland and Mt. Diablo Boulevard is planned. Right-of-way negotiations are 90 per cent complete and the call for bids may go out in February.

Considered of a less "distressed" nature at this time are the highways between the Broadway tunnel and Orinda, and between Orinda and Lafayette, where there are only "a couple of bad left turns."

Motorized Library Rolling Into Area Each Saturday

Public library service on wheels comes to Moraga every Saturday, when Contra Costa County's first Bookmobile is scheduled from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. at the Rheem Shopping Center in front of Clark's Market.

Another Saturday stop in Central Contra Costa County is made from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Gregory Village in Pleasant Hill.

OPERATING as a branch of the Contra Costa County Library system, under direction of County Librarian Bertha D. Hellum, the mobile library makes weekly stops in 20 of the county's most heavily poplated areas beyond access to the 30 community branch and station libraries in the system.

Staffed by Mrs. Rozetta T. Cardwell as Branch Librarian, and by William E. Channel and Donald Foster as alternating Driver-Clerks, the Bookmobile draws upon the county library's total book collection of over 200,000 volumes kept in rotation among the branches and stations.

The Bookmobile is replenished daily with additional titles, while worn and "read out" books are withdrawn for repair and distribution elsewhere.

As in the stationary libraries, any desired book not on the shelf may be requested by any individual.

REGISTRATION of borrowers is conducted on the Bookmobile is it is in the branches, with a library card issued from any branch or the Bookmobile usable in any library in the system.

A child may have a card as soon as he can write his name, with the parent's or guardian's signature to indicate permission. The Bookmobile carries some 3000 books, half for children, half for adults.

"A bookmobile, or traveling branch library, is actually an economical and practical means of supplying books and professional library services to people in areas where new branch libraries are needed but where such construction would mean too heavy a local financial burden," Mrs. Hellum said.

"BECAUSE THE Bookmobile can travel from place to place and operate in lieu of 20 additional buildings which could only be open part time, it avoids waste of both books and staff. One professionally trained librarian is on duty, her special skills and book knowledge available at every stop," she added.

A survey completed last June by the county library staff disclosed more than 200 areas in the county lacking branch library service.

Selection of the twenty possible stops has been made after intensive study and consideration of the many requests from communities, organizations and individuals asking for stops in their locations.

BOOKMOBILE SCHEDULES through February are subject to future revision, according to Mrs. Hellum. If any stops prove impractical they may be transferred later to areas where demand for service is heavier.

Mrs. Hellum reports that electric outlets for lighting and operation of the book charging machine have been offered by shopping centers, markets, and in some cases by individuals from private homes.

WC-Monument Freeway May Open On Thursday

Thursday, weather permitting, the four new freeway lanes on Contra Costa Highway from Oakland Boulevard to 0.3 mile north of the Monument, will be ready for traffic, according to J. P. Sinclair, assistant state highway engineer.

The project which was constructed at a cost of $2,849,237 by Stolte, Inc. and Gallagher & Burke, Inc., is an important link in the freeway between Walnut Creek and Concord through Pleasant Hill.

Interchanges have been provided at Hookston, Oak Park, Geary Road and Walden Road, and a new bridge for the freeway lanes across the Contra Costa Canal has been constructed.

Work began on the project in October, 1955. Provision has been made for increasing the freeway lanes to six when future traffic warrants.

Woman Injured In Village Crash

An Oakland woman spent the first day of the New Year in Contra Costa County Hospital, Martinez, where she was rushed early Tuesday morning after her car went out of control and crashed into a bridge abutment in Orinda Village.

The victim was Mrs. Johanna Ann Peabbles, who was driving on the Orinda Highway when the accident occurred.

She was treated at the hospital for head injuries, cuts and bruises.

Signs Delayed -- Rules Enforced

New parking and school bus pick-up regulations are being enforced at the Lafayette School, in spite of the county's delay in designating the new areas.

Signs and street markings, designating parking and pick-up areas, were scheduled to be installed Wednesday, but have been delayed until early next week.

Following are the new regulations:

1. The bus loading zone in the circle area is used for bus pick-ups and faculty parking only.

2. The student loading zone is located on the north side of School Street, from the driveway near the Boy Scout Cabin to a spot west of the auditorium.

"Loading Zone Only" signs will be installed in the area and curbs will be painted as necessary. From this point on to Moraga Road parking spaces will be marked every 22 feet.

WEARINESS

Two enemies of safe driving are weariness and worry. Weariness slows down reaction time and worry affects concentration. You can't always stop worryink when you get behind the wheel of your car, but you can take a rest if you're weary. Give yourself a break, don't drive when you're tired

Dimes Drive Underway

An appeal for help for polio victimes is being mailed this week to 100,000 Contra Costa County families, as the annual March of Dimes drive swings into full action.

John Sheridan, Contra Costa County March of Dimes chairman, joined local polio leaders throughout the county in urging residents to fill the envelopes and coin inserts and return them as soon as possible to March of Dimes headquarters.

"1957 may well be the most exciting year in the history of the fight against polio," Sheridan declared. "We now have an effective vaccine—all we need to do is teach people to use it to wipe out polio in the future. That's our biggest job today!

"At the same time, we cannot look so far into the future that we neglect present needs. There are more than 65,000 people in the United States who are still dependent on March of Dimes help. Your gift is needed to help them as well as to bring about the elimination of polio in the future."

The March of Dimes in Pleasant Hill is headed by R. M. (Bob) Barnum, assistant cashier of the Bank of America, assisted by Mrs. Anthony Mazur as Mothers March chairman, Norman C. (Tony) Hill as business chairman, and Bob Rapida as publicity chairman.

The only point in the United States where four states meet is in the Ute and Navajo Indian reservations, south of Cortez, Colorado. The states are Utah, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico.

Lafayette Man To Direct Scout Finance Drive

Dr. Bill Harris of 3333 Springhill Road, Lafayette, has been appointed vice-chairman of the Boy Scout Meridian District Finance Committee, according to F. E. Koser, chairman.

He will head an organization of volunteer adult Scouters during an annual sustaining membership campaign of Mt. Diablo Boy Scout Council.

Father of two boys, one a Cub Scout and the other a Boy Scout, Harris is a member of the Troop Committee of Troop 224, sponsored by the Springhill Road Improvement Association.

He has resided in the Lafayette area for eight years and maintains a practice as dentist in Walnut Creek. He is a member of the (board of the) Contra Costa Dental Society, and is treasurer of the East Bay Dental Conference.

A veteran of twelve years in the U. S. Navy, he was awarded the Legion of Merit as result of his service in Korea. He is active in the Naval Reserve as a commander, 12th Naval District, Treasure Island.

Dr. Harris will appoint several chairmen. The kick-off will take place just before Boy Scout Week, with tentative date set as January 30.

In the Mt. Diablo Council, embracing all of Contra Costa County, plus Berkeley and Albany in Alameda County, there are approximately 35,000 boys of Scout age, of which 62 per cent are registered as Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers.

Costs of this program are met largely through the United Crusade and Community Chests, but approximately 30 per cent of the operating expense must be raised by friends of Scouting through personal contributions as sustaining members.

In the Meridian District, the share for the Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Danville, and Pleasant Hill area is about $15,000. This is the goal Harris and his organization are aiming for.

Contra Costa Will Get $566,000 from Crusade

The United Bay Area Crusade leaders counted $10,012,000 in the 1956 campaign fund, estimated it will receive at least $138,000 more before the end of January, and made 1957 allotments to its five constituent county Crusades on the basis of a $10,150,000 campaign total.

Jack K. Horton, chairman of the five-county welfare drive, told the executive committee of UBAC that the $10,150,000 total represent 92 per cent of the Crusade's $11,017,000 goal.

COLLECTED BY some 50,000 volunteers since October 1, it is the biggest charity fund ever raised in the Bay Area.

Here's how the executive committee distributed it:

San Francisco Federated Fund will receive $5,196,726.

Alameda County United Fund will receive $2,413,961 (5 per cent more than Alameda agencies are getting this year). San Mateo County United Fund will receive $656,988 for its agencies (8 per cent more than this year).

Contra Costa County United Crusade was allocated $566,701, or $58,248 and 11 per cent more money than all of the agencies now included in that Crusade received in 1956. The Marin United Fund was allocated $171,582.

DISTRIBUTION to the five county Crusades was made according to a formula devised last September by UBAC's Allocations Committee, which has proportionate representation from each county.

Two per cent ($235,036) of the total $10,150,000 was reserved against collection losses, and nine per cent ($909,006) was set aside for 1957 campaign cost and year-around administration of the five-county organization.

Samuel B. Stewart, president of the Crusade, thanked Horton and his volunteer campaign organization for the $10-million-plus sum. "In just two years our five-county federation of Crusades has raised $1,350,000 — or 15 per cent more than was raised in 1954 when each county campaigned competitively to raise a total of $8,800,000," Stewart said.

"You campaigners have made enormous strides. We are still not meeting the entire need, but we are making substantial gains upon it."

The San Joaquin waterways which connect Stockton with the Pacific Ocean, consist of 1000 miles of navigable inland waters.

Businesses Mushrooming In Contra Costa County

There are 35.5 per cent more businesses in Contra Costa County today than there were 10 years ago, but that figure is far less than the increases in Walnut Creek, Danville, Lafayette, Orinda and Concord.

These conclusions come from a report by Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., of San Francisco.

They show that Walnut Creek had 163 businesses in 1946, and 442 this year. This is a 158.9 per cent increase.

LAFAYETTE is up 74.2 per cent, with 230 business enterprises compared with 132 a decade ago.

Orinda's 64 concerns register a 64.1 per cent jump.

Smallest number of businesses 10 years ago were 18 in Danville. Since then the community has added 63 more, for an increase of 350 per cent.

Concord's progress is much like that of Walnut Creek.

It boasts 483 businesses, a 136.7 per cent increase over the 204 registered in 1946.

Other areas where the changes are not great include Martinez with 2 per cent, Pittsburg with 8 per cent; Pinole, 3.7 per cent; San Pablo, 3 per cent; El Cerrito, 3.9 per cent.

THE COUNTY compares well with the other 46 counties in Northern California.

Their overall increase is 16.1 per cent, less than half of Contra Costa's comparative business growth.

The county has 4,129 concerns, or 1082 more than 10 years ago.

The figures are based on the November, 1956, reference book published by Dun and Bradstreet.

STATEMENT BY FLINT

Dear Editor:

In view of the controversy touched off by the mimeographed bulletin sent to Orindans supporting me as a candidate for the Orinda Association, I feel it necessary to make my position clear.

1. I was not in any way aware that such a bulletin was to be issued.

2. I am not personally acquainted with any of the persons over whose names the bulletin appeared.

3. I have no reason to be critical of the Chamber of Commerce, the Civic Affairs Committee or any other organization or group whose objectives are in the best interest of the residents and business men of Orinda.

This brief statement of position has been purposely withheld until after the ballots were counted so that it could not be interpreted in any way as a campaign technique.

Rather, I am making these remarks strictly as a private citizen with no affiliation with any clique or any ax to grind.

Youths Launch New Year With Activity Slate Full

There is a certain vitality and effervescence about teenagers that will never cease to inspire awe and envy from their parents.

This is especially true of Orinda youths, who are now expending that energy as members of the newly-organized teenage club of the Orinda Recreation Program.

HAVING ORGANIZED the club December 20, under the guidance of Recreation Director Frank Isola, the sophomores and freshmen at Miramonte High School have launched the new year with a full slate of activities in view.

The first organized event of the new club will be the big dance for all local teenagers to be held January 12 at the Pine Grove School.

This will be an opportunity for all area youths to get an inside glimpse of what is in store for them as members of the club.

THE DANCE, called the "Icicle Hop," will be right in season. Aside from the wintery effects which will decorate the Pine Grove auditorium, some 65 Christmas trees, now being collected by club members, will line the walls.

Under the leadership of President Gary Lucas, who recently was appointed general chairman of the lance, the decorating committee will comprise:

Judy Roberts, Trent Pridemore, Bill Hilger, Susan Schwatka, Lindy McLane and Don McCloud.

Handling refreshments will be Lucas, Bill Klement. Bob Davis and Treasurer Klint Danna.

JUDY ROBERTS is in charge of bids, and Bob Neuman will make arrangements for the music.

Admission to the sports dance, which will last from 8 p.m. to midnight, will be 50 cents, stag or drag.

As club membership is expected to boom following the dance the next event will follow in February, when members will put on their boots and mufflers and head for a day in the snow.

Proceeds from the dance will help finance this trip.

EVENTUALLY, the club will be split into two divisions—sophomore and freshman. But for the time being, all activities will include both classes.

At a meeting December 27, Lucas was elected president of the sophomore group, while Mario Guarneri was chosen to head the frosh.

At that time, dance tickets were distributed to the close to 50 charter members, who will be selling them to their friends and classmates.

That meeting, like the previous organizational meetings of the club, included both business and pleasure.

BUSINESS TOOK up the first half of the meeting and was followed by an hour of basketball, volleyball, and other recreational activities in the Pine Grove gym.

As, according to Isola, the teenagers are mapping their own program and deciding their own activities, this meeting agenda is meeting the approval of the members and will continue to be followed.

This will be the format of the club's next meeting next Thursday at 8 p.m. at Pine Grove. At that time final preparations and plans for the big dance will be made.

University Women Slate Active Month

Several guest speakers have been invited to address section meetings of the Orinda branch of the American Association of University Women this month.

Harold Mutnick, Lafayette attorney, will advise the Contemporary Problems group on the legal status of women in California Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lazaroff.

On Thursday the travel group will hear Mrs. Karim Torsleff, a student of architecture at the University of California, talk about Sweden. This 10 a.m. meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. John Dorr and will be followed by a brunch at 11 o'clock.

Other section meetings of the branch will be bridge Tuesday at 12:30 at Mrs. L. B. Harmon's home and on January 15 8 ,p.m., with Mrs. H. P. Nilmeier, and the Spanish lesson at the D. C. Young residence January 15 at 12:30.

WHAT'S TO CELEBRATE?

First of the new year, first of the new month! Income tax forms, car registration, bills, bills, bills! Anyhow, a very Happy 1957 to you all.

Plenty of sunny days, and clear, cold nights. Everybody is praying for rain, especially those with livestock and those dependent on wells for their water.

John Thune, with son, Johnny, and two girls, Linda, 8, and Becky 6, arrived home New Year's night from a four day camping trip in Yosemite.

They went prepared for skiing or hiking, as the condition and amount of snow indicated. They found not too much snow, but enjoyed skiing anyhow, and had their most fun ice skating.

HOLIDAY AWAY

Also just returned from a two-week trip over the holidays are Bill and Edna Lance of Camino Pablo and son Chuck and his friend, Roger Franklin, son of the Bing Franklins.

The Lances, pulling their trailer house, covered 3000 miles through the Southwest and down into Mexico. They report a fine trip, but were glad to arrive home on New Year's Day.

Mother's Club meeting for January has been postponed to January 16 at the Moraga School, 8 p.m., due to the regular meeting being too close to the holidays. It is desired to have a good attendance as there will be a speaker.

The Lynch children, Kathy, Joe and "Nee Nee," are attending a Judo class run by Professor Law at his gymnasium. Today the class will be featured as the Junior Color Belters on the Mickey Mouse Judo Show, broadcaset over KGO-TV, Channel 7, at 5 p.m.

Be sure to watch, you kids, and you may be able to see your friends.

FAMILY GROWS

A big WELCOME to the new addition to the house of Harold and Patricia Teigen, Daniel Peder Teigen. Daniel, born December 26 at the Providence Hospital in Oakland, weighed 9 pounds, 8 ounces. A real football player! There are two other sons in the family.

Patricia's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Magnus, are here from their home in Chicago, Ill., to spend the holidays and to welcome their new grandson.

Also visiting at the Teigens is John Magnus and wife, Alicia, who live in Long Beach. John is Patricia's brother, so they have had a real family reunion, with a new member added.

GENTLEMEN GUESTS

Sunday night Mrs. Elinor Dickenson entertained five young gentlemen at her home for the evening and dessert. David Fleuti, Billy Ross, Donny Franklin, John Baitx and Jo Jo Freitas arrived looking splendid all dressed up and ready for a big evening.

These three were part of the walnut hulling crew who were promised a party when Elinor returned from her vacation. Missing were Misses Linda and Rebecca Thune, who were camping in the Yosemite Valley.

Mrs. Louise Lynch, leader of Brownie Troop 23, reports for the column that Troop 23 will have its Troop Birthday Party at its Tuesday meeting, at which time the following members will receive their year pins:

Diana Carr, Elizabeth Cirio, Lorraine Ellison, Theresa Gonsalves and Linda Thune.

Carolers' Singing Aids Refugees

Nine Hidden Valley girls, ranging in age from 7 to 13, went Christmas-caroling in their neighborhood the evening of the Sunday before Christmas—and as a result $16 was contributed for relief of Hungarian refugees.

Originally money wasn't even considered as a possibility. The girls just went out to carol, in their customary yuletide manner. But when one family gave them $1, the girls got the bright idea of turning any carol-inspired money over to Hungarian relief.

SIXTEEN DOLLARS was the final total—and Dr. Dana Hamlin, father of three of the girls, gave the money to Ramsay Underwood, with the request that it be turned over to Ernest Poll of Orinda, a local-area representative on the United Hungarian Relief Committee of San Francisco.

This was done, and everybody concerned was elated, including Dr. and Mrs. Hamlin, who formerly accompanied the girls on their Christmas caroling, but who this time figured the girls were old enough to carol by themselves.

The girls, all of whom are Intermediate Girl Scouts or Brownies, are Sally, Martha and Kathleen Hamlin, Leslie Jones, Patsy Richardson, Joan Giguiere, Vicki Johnson, Laurie Inman and Diane Peabody.

POLL ASKED that usable clothing be sent to the United Hungarian Relief Committee. 2272 Market Street, San Francisco. Small packages may be sent to him at the Village Cleaners. Orinda. or to Hamlin Cleaners. Lafayette, he said.

As a member of Orinda Rotary. Poll has been active in helping get aid from Rotary Clubs for Hungarian refugees. As a result of his effort, clothes have been sent by the Eureka, Pittsburg Castroville and Concord Rotary Clubs.

More news on holiday doings

(Here are some more holiday items. The event described at the beginning of this week's installment is the recent Pandor'as "Christmas Box" at the Walnut Creek Elks Club.)

NOTED IN THE CROWD . . . The Harold Ohleyers, Elaine in decollete Christmas red . . . The feminine guests like sparkling tree ornaments on the dance floor, holiday colors of red and green a favorite, with winter-white running a close second . . . Kay Berard's white chiffon fairly floated across the floor . . . Another sheer white sheath, this one with a long matching stole-scarf for member Bee Hendrickson . . . She and her husband Bob making plans for a SNOW TRIP coming up soon, a special Christmas treat for their children . . . The George Andersons, new member Maxine Doty in black and gold.

OF EARLY GATHERINGS . . . The Howard Youngs and the Jim Maddens in a gay group arriving from pre-party toasts at the Lincoln Estates home of Bill and Eileen Morganson . . . Billie Madden in black, hardly missing a dance, finally going around sans shoes later evening . . . Grace St. Clair in emerald green satin, having a first-time fling after a brief hospitalization. She and Ken coming in from the Morgansons, too, as were Walt and Mildred Naumon and Don Mitchell and his spouse Jane whose chose a beige peau de soie w/a pearl neckline for the holiday party.

Molly Sullivan and her husband John were busy greeting arrivals, many having come from an early cocktail gathering at the Sullivans' Stanton Avenue home . . . The Morris Jeppsons, (Marge is Pandora president) were also hosts at a pre-dinner roundup for some 25 friends in their new home on Miner Road . . . Louise Knudsen noted in coppertone satin . . . SHE co-chairman for the party w/Eleanor Haefele whose jade green frock seemed everywhere at once!

When Gordon Heche's orchestra packed up their instruments after 1 a.m., guests tied up THEIR Xmas package to Pandora members by complimenting the group on another perfect party!

CHRISTMAS TIES . . . The Norman Baileys of Canon Drive drove deep into Texas for a holiday visit w/Ann's sister and family . . . The Carl Dudleys opened their presents in Sacramento, and Jane and Bob Lester and their children were celebrating a Feliz Ano Nueva in Mexico.

Such things is Christmas made of HOLIDAY TRIPS . . . John and Evie Parker tied up "a trip to Las Vegas package" and presented themselves with a first week of Dec. holiday to the same . . . The Frederick Johnsens arrived home JUST in time for Xmas from a Pinecrest-stay . . . The Reisers, Jack and Barbara, took their tots and ski togs to Yosemite for some fun in the snow before Christmas . . . Ann Ryan and her children fashioned their snowmen at Tahoe.

THE SWEDISH TRADITION of the Santa Lucia Festival, (the girl-child picked as Santa Lucia wears a wooden crown of candles on her head) became a reality at the Stanley Thompsons in Sleepy Hollow. Swedish friends, scientist Linnert Holm and his wife and their white-capped and costumed children called on the Thompsons Santa Lucia Day, and as is the custom, served the surprised but grateful pair swedish rolls and coffee at their bedside, singing in Swedish, too, the well-known "Santa Lucia."

The Holms have since returned to Sweden, and the Thompsons, who were in Sweden a year ago (he's a UC chemist) were yuletiding in South California. But the memory of a Swedish custom and coffee and rolls in bed, will linger on, for such things are Christmas made of.

IN SCANDINAVIAN-STYLE, too, the Glenn Seaborgs of Lafayette entertained Norwegian and Swedish friends on a recent evening with the traditional Luttefisk Christmas dinner.

THESE CHANGING TIMES . . . The tune was familiar and being sung quite seriously by a solemn seven-yr.-old in a lilting soprano voice . . . Bending an ear, we recognized the old tune of "Oh, Tannenbaum—Oh, Tannenbaum" but HER words, probably as she had learned them in dead earnest, were "Oh, Atom Bomb—Oh, Atom Bomb." Somewhat a sad Noel note with certainly some social significance!

OVERHEARD at the local drugstore . . . Two OLDER teenagers, discussing their Xmas loot—"SHE gave me The Duchess of Windsor. but HE gave me Elvis Presley."

And good will to other children

A few children we know only TOO well were full of good Christmasy spirit and went calling throughout the neighborhood just before the 24th . . . They returned home w/a jar full of pennies and nickels and handed it over to mother "For the poor children". . . Further questioning revealed that the young fund-raisers had been out asking for money for the March of Dimes, etc., so for their own benefit (as well as others'), the basic fundamentals of charity and collections was duly explained. For the information of the neighborhood donors, the children's monies were added to some already earmarked for the Hungarian Relief.

Since a slick little magazine, "Bon Appetit," hit the local mailboxes courtesy of the Jackson Catering and Party people, many readers have decided to cook their holiday bird in the big brown paper bag manner as suggested . . . "Prepare turkey as usual . . . Sliding the bird into the bag MAY BE a two-man operation, esp. when he's greased like the proverbial pig. CAREFUL not to rip the bag . . . Overlap the flaps, secure them w/paper clips and ease the whole project onto a rack in a shallow baking pan, 325 degree oven, 20 min. per pound."

That's ALL you do and Mr. Turkey comes moist, yet crisp and brown and succulently-perfect as the picture in mag. No need to remove bag for browning and NO PEEKING!

Vote 'Yes' January 22 On Those School Bonds!

Two and a half weeks from now — on January 22 — the voters of the Orinda Union School District will cast their ballots on three proposals by the district board:

1. A bond issue for $950,000.

2. Authorization for the trustees to borrow up to $1,200,000 from the State School Building Fund.

3. Authority to raise the elementary school tax rate limit from the present $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation to $2.75 per $100 assessed valuation.

After careful study of the problems involved, The Sun wholeheartedly endorses the proposals and urges an overwhelming "Yes" vote on January 22. A two-thirds affirmative vote is neeessary for bond issue passage.

Two questions frequently asked are: (1) Why does the school district need more bonds? (2) How much will an increased tax limit raise local taxes?

Regarding the first question: The study of the Odell Associates indicated that by 1961-62 the district will need an additional 45 to 50 classrooms to house the anticipated 4000 children who will Site purchases, site development, be enrolled in our schools at that time. construction of classrooms and other necessary facilities will cost about $2 million.

The district will be able to raise approximately $950,000 of this from its own bonds. The remainder will have to be borrowed from the state.

Regarding the second question: The Orinda School Board has always been conservative in its expenditure of funds — it has consistently maintained a low operating cost while at the same time maintaining a high level of education.

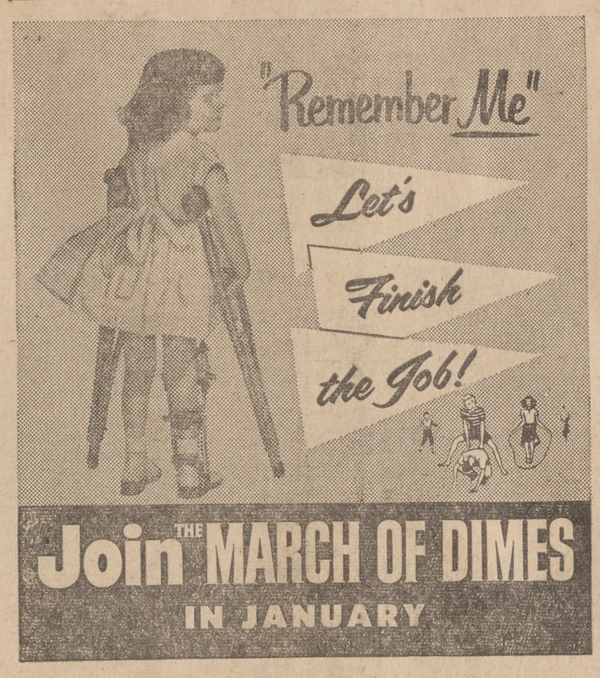
During the past five years the legal tax limit has been $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation — yet that legal limit has been used only once (the first year), because additional monies were needed to complete the Sleepy Hollow School. The district operating tax rate for the current fiscal year is $1.53.

These facts underscore the operational economy, as well as the integrity and sincerity of the school board. And they should serve to reassure the voters that authorization of a $2.75 tax rate limit does not mean that such a tax rate will be established right away.

The plan is for a 5-year period — and only a tax needed to balance the budget would be set each year.

While maintaining a high level of education, the Orinda School Board program has been minus so-called "frills." But school costs are increasing, as are other costs.

In order to continue the splendid program of the Orinda Union School District and to meet the problems of steadily increasing enrollment and consequent need for expanded facilities, the bond issue, state loan and tax rate limit proposals — which are long-range — deserve your support at the polls



What They Say . . .

Job Agency for Youths?

Come vacation time each year, and local teenagers go scurrying from the school gates breathing the exhilarating air of freedom.

This bliss continues for several days, but then the youngsters begin looking around for something to occupy their time. That's when their thoughts begin turning to finding a job to earn the pocket money they need to enjoy their vacations.

But these are not easy to come by, and most of our teenagers are deprived of vacation and spare-time occupations.

The solution to this problem, as suggested by many local residents as well as the authorities, could lie in a central employment agency for teenagers . . . an office through which people with odd jobs or part-time work to be done could obtain plenty of willing youths.

Your Roving Reporter this week asked some locals what they thought of having such an agency set up. These are their reactions:

MRS. VERE A. BEERS, 824 Moraga Road, Lafayette: "Not having any teenagers, I'm not too familiar with the problem. But I can see where it could be a major problem, and I'd certainly be in favor of a central employment agency."

MRS. ROBERT D. DALTON JR., 101 Camino Don Miguel, Orinda: "I think it would be a very good idea, because the teenagers don't seem to know what to do with themselves during vacations and after school. I'm sure they'd appreciate having a little extra money."

MRS. IDA LIKINS, 3721 Mosswood Drive Lafayette: "I certainly do think it would be a good idea. I have a grandson of 13 who's very anxious to find something to do. He's just at the age when it's hard to keep him occupied."

MRS. ALBERT R. MACY, 57 Camino Don Miguel, Orinda: "It would probably be a very fine thing. I can remember when teenagers were able to find jobs easily, and they seemed a lot happier. Also, there are many people who have odd jobs to be done and would be happy to find teenagers to do them. An agency would work to everyone's advantage."

MRS. RAND HALEY, 23 Deltor Drive, Walnut Creek: "I think there should be someplace where teenagers could get jobs. My oldest boy, Rand Jr., has a terrible time finding part time work."

ARTEN V. LANGTORE, 3847 Treemont Lane, Pleasant Hill: "A friend of mine told me that Pleasant Hill High School had some kind of employment bureau for high school children. I think the community should do all in its power to help youngsters get an education through employment as well as school."

MRS. HARLEY TRENT, 1119 Dominic Drive, Pleasant Hill: "Oh, I think it's a wonderful idea. I've never thought of it before, but, I'd be willing to help out in forming such a central bureau."

R. T. FACCROSE, 2718 Taville Avenue, Walnut Creek: "There should be someplace where teenagers could go to get jobs. Seems to me this might be a function of the Chamber of Commerce."

Does Your Face Reveal When You're Embarrassed

By DOROTHY PATTERSON

SOME PEOPLE NEVER TAKE TIME OUT to realize how lucky they are when they have the ability to blush at the right moment.

Some of us just have to stand firm and appear unmoved and callous while our blood pressure refuses to do its part and suffuse the cheeks becomingly as the emotions of embarrassment or modesty run rampant within our tortured souls.

Oh, the disadvantages of having an uncooperative thermostat!

Turnabout in blushes

It was my good pleasure to make a doctor blush the other day, a turnabout I consider as being the fairest of play.

Bill Ornduff, one of Lafayette's most popular pediatricians, was seen browsing in the lingerie department of a large store during the Christmas shopping contest.

He was having difficulty making a decision because one eye was on the garments and the other eye on the ceiling.

"Well, I didn't expect to meet you here," he said gaily as he dropped everything lacy.

"And I didn't expect to meet YOU here either," was the retort that added the bright red glow to his warm, friendly smile.

Obviously he was in excellent physical condition that day, but then, of course, his wife Katie hadn't read this yet!

Other aspects of the situation

Naturally, other emtions enter into this phase of color change on the human countenance, some of which are frequently accompanied by a scowl. The kind of emotion brought on by a slow, day-dreaming driver or an obstinate child, for example.

In a food market in Lafayette there is a little poultry corner owned and operated by a most friendly gentleman named Angelo.

It was at his "poultry club"—where young and old chickens meet—that my own blood tried to boil one day, but it just couldn't meet the requirements.

Conversation about bird

It appeared that the road to poverty would be a long one for a typical woman shopper, nattily dressed and loaded with self-assurance and diamonds, who burst through the lines of the patiently waiting customers at the counter.

She ordered a "12-to-13-pound" turkey; wanted to know the difference between a hen and a tom; how long it took to cook the thing and the recommended temperature required for success in such endavor. It was apparnt, also, that she had had few, if any lessons in How to Come in out of the Rain!

Angelo's helper was at a loss to resist this dynamo but it seems unquestionable that there is one in every crowd.

The fact that they did not place an order beforehand, as is customary, only serves to add to the challenge the very occasion itself affords.

Thus it is a fact that if she had not been given the kind of bird she finally decided "would do," without question she would have received a bird of a different species delivered unblushingly by someone else standing close by. And with temper waxing thin.

Temptation is a terrible thing. Just wish I could blush thinking about it!

ABOUT PLANNING

Dear Editor:

I would like to give some partial answers to the questions and suggestions contained in your recent editorial on planning in this county.

Your attempt to stimulate public interest in county government through such an editorial is commendable, as far as it goes. However, you give me the impression that a Board of Supervisors is obligated to confirm the opinion of a planning department; this would necessarily apply to all other departments, also. If this were true, we might as well dispense with supervisorial elections and abandon government by representation for government by civil service employees.

Since supervisors are supposed to correlate departmental recommendations with the general public welfare, excessive reversals by them may reflect upon the competency of the department or upon their own competency. In other words, there are two sides to this matter of reversals.

POSSIBLY, one of many reasons why planning and zoning are unsatisfactory here is because too many of us (planners, officials and citizens) refuse to recognize the fact that we are becoming a part of a vast metropolitan area. We may all regret this urbanization but it is already here, presenting special problems of growth and taxation, requiring intelligent control instead of blind resistance.

Possibly, one of the reasons we are not receiving our money's worth, both in planning and in government, is that no department nor the county as a whole has given any thought to the adoption of a long-range financial plan.

Among other things, this would embody over-all and departmental capital improvement programs and capital expenditure programs. These are vital to efficient government and sound planning and protect the citizenry by preventing sudden tax increases. The County Taxpayers Association has long advocated this and I suggest that you consult with them, for a future editorial.

Possibly, the three planning technicians resigned from our county in order to better themselves, both in salary and professional prestige, as they advanced from being section heads here to becoming planning directors elsewhere. Since these three people had previously quit other positions in order to take employment in Martinez, your implication is obscure; it is also a probable source of embarrassment to them and to their successors.

MORE SPECIFIC answers to your questions and your suggested re-evaluation of our planning and our government may be obtained from a planning course to be given in Lafayette next month.

The Association for the Progress and Improvement of Contra Costa County is cooperating with the University of California Extension Division, for the fourth time within a year, in bringing these courses into a county that decidedly needs them.

City and Regional Planning X-153-AB will start on February 11 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 207 of Acalanes High School, and will continue each Monday night until May 6; it will give two units of university credit.

The community value of these courses cannot be overstimated, particularly in these critical times. The Progress Association believes they will help to replace cricitism with constructive criticism. Since all your readers won't take these courses, I would like to suggest that The Sun run a series of articles on specific phases of government, taxation and planning, by authorities who can give concrete ideas relating to our problems.

MRS. ROBERT MacHUGH,

Under The Sun

Have you given your boy a black eye lately?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

I'm in the dog house with my mother-in-law.

It really isn't my fault — honest. Mark, Dan and Janet were tearing me apart in a wrestling match the other night and Danny's eye must have got in the way of my elbow. Eight-year-old Dan now proudly shows the remains of his black eye.

Of course, buying the boys their second set of boxing gloves for Christmas didn't help matters out any. In any event, I had to promise mother there would be no more elbows-in-eyes, etc.

But I'm going to go further than that. Eleanor and I are renewing a Home Safety Campaign. The impetus is furnished by material received from the Contra Costa County Health Department. I was most surprised to read that the second highest rate of accidents occur in the home and of these, more occur in the 5-14 age group than at any other age. The latter fact is most significant because I think we all are extremely careful with our babies and toddlers but apparently let down as the kids get older.

Read for yourself

Here is part of the interesting report prepared by the Health Department:

This is a preliminary report of the one-week accident survey sponsored by the Health Department during the week of May 1-7. An amazingly high number of accidents were reported — 2,156 in all. Less than a third of the total were seen by either a private physician or a hospital.

By place of occurence, schools lead in the number of reported accidents with 854. Homes were second with 741. Of course, it is pretty certain that where school accidents were reported diligently, home accidents were only infrequently reported except where the persons sought medical aid. Industrial accidents were well reported.

Where they happen

Percentage of accidents by location:

School	40%
Home	34%
Other & Unknown	2%
Rec. & Public	3%
Street & Highway	9%
Industrial	12%

In this issue we will emphasize the findings on home accidents which are defined as all those resulting in injury, occuring in or around the home.

More home accidents occurred in the 5-14 age group than at any other age. Falls in and about the house accounted for the largest number of home accidents (192 for all age groups). Striking against objects such as furniture, fences, etc., were second with 137. Falls were especially important to those 65 and over.

Power tools, household appliances and machines were frequently named as objects involved in home accidents. Medicines improperly safeguarded accounted for 10 accidental child poisonings, 9 of which were under 5 years of age.

Cuts, burns, poisons, etc.

A high proportion of the lacerations, burns, poisons, and broken legs happened in or about the house. All of the burns reported as happening to those under 4 years of age occurred in or about the house, as did 35 of the 45 burns occurring to those 5-19 years of age.

What can we do to help prevent home accidents?

1. FALLS: (a) wipe up grease, food or water spilled on the floor immediately; (b) use of non-skid rugs; (c) repair stairs; (d) use a step ladder when reaching for objects out of reach.

2. Burns: (a) keep children out of the kitchen when preparing meals; (b) turn pot handles away from stove edges; (c) keep matches and cigarette lighters away from children.

3. Poisoning: (a) keep medicines, insecticides, and cleaning agents out of children's reach.

4. Do a safety check of your home. Single copies of a home safety check list are available from the County Health Department.

Thus, ends the report.

No box tops required

A home check list sounded interesting, so I dropped a post card to Dr. H. L. Blum, health officer, and asked for 100 copies. If you want one, send a self-addressed envelope to The Sun and we will be happy to mail it to you. We'll even put on the stamp.

You will know many of the things on this check list but if you get just one good idea, it will be worthwhile. For example, I learned — "Never keep a radio in the bathroom," because of electricity and water.. I have many times put the table radio in the bathroom for Mark when he is listening to a football or basketball game.. But I won't from now on.

Dramateurs to Hold Tryouts for Spring Production

Tryouts for the Dramateurs' spring production will be held Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Orinda Fellowship Hall.

The three plays under consideration are "Sabrina Fair," "High Ground" and 'Oh Men, Oh Women."

Director Carl Rasmussen will select one of these plays to be produced in March at the Berkeley Little Theater depending on the outcome of the tryouts.

In addition to varied acting roles all three vehicles offer interesting staging possibilities in sets, costumes, properties and other technical aspects. The tryouts are open to all those interested in both the acting and technical fields.

Director Rasmussen suggests that those wishing to try out have previously prepared material with which they are familiar.

Named as defendents in the suit were the firm's owners, Yepe Yeghoian and Stanley Baer.

'57 Gets Big Welcome at Orinda CC

The New Year was welcomed in gala fashion Tuesday night by the big crowd gathered at the Orinda Country Club.

Horns, streamers, music and general gaiety filled the air as midnight approached at the club.

The capacity crowd was well primed for the festivities by the big dinner served at the club from 9 to 11:30 p.m.

Dancing, to the music of Dick Foy and his band, also began at 9 p.m., and was interupped only by the dramatic announcement at midnight that 1957 was finally here.

Serving as hostess for the affair was Mrs. Peggy Dolan.

Several club members began their celebrating earlier in the evening at cocktail parties in local homes. Club President Walter Boysen and the Harry Martins had friends in for some pre-party merriment.

Trish Meyers Tells of Troth To Jim Marks

To 150 assembled guests from Lafayette, Woodland, San Jose and the Peninsula, Patricia (Trish) Meyers last Friday night announced her engagement to Jim Marks, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Marks of Woodland.

The romantic occasion of the announcement was a holiday cocktail party given at the El Nido by her mother, Mrs. Edward H. Miller of Lafayette, and by Commander Miller.

Jim and Trish first met at San Jose State College four years ago, when they were both freshman students. At San Jose College Trish affiliated with the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority, was a member of the Court Justice, a song girl, Homecoming Queen and a Queen in the Cal Football Festival.

SHE IS NOW a senior student at the University of California Dental College in San Francisco Medical Center, majoring in dental hygiene, and will graduate in June.

Trish is a member of the Cal Club and the Dental School social chairman and was last year's class president. In 1955 she went on a student our of Europe. She graduated from Acalanes High School in 1952.

Jim, her fiance, received his degree last June from San Jose State College, where he majored in Business Administration.

HE IS A member of the Delt Upsilon Fraternity and was president of the fraternity during the 1956 school year. He is also a member of Blue Key, Men's Honorary Fraternity.

Upon completion of his tour of duty in the Army, he plans to be associated with the W. S. Marks Meat Packing Company in Woodland.

Holiday decor for the party was red holly and silver bells. On the table two Christmas elves held up a big red heart inscribed with the glittering names of the couple.

THE BETROTHAL news was also revealed via red match books inscribed with the names of Jim and Trish. Preps Resume Basketball Competition

More Practice Tilts Precede League Games

The advent of 1957 brings with it a new year of sports—and prep basketball assumes the limelight as it takes to the hardwood, with a few practice games on tap and then the big ones when league play gets under way in mid-January.

Miramonte, undefeated in play to date, opens with Pleasant Hill next Thursday in a 3:30 p.m. game to be played in the Pleasant Hill gym. Then Miramonte goes to Richmond to play Harry Ells next Friday in a 3:15 p.m. game.

Miramonte is playing an independent schedule, having only freshmen and sophomores.

THE PLEASANT HILL Rams have two games before entering league play with Antioch at Pleasant Hill on Tuesday, January 15.

It's the University of California 145s at Berkeley next Tuesday at 3:30 p.m., and Monterey at Pleasant Hill next Friday.

The Monterey-Pleasant Hill encounter will be a 7:30 p.m. game, and chances are it will be played in the new gym which has been "not so rapidly" nearing completion.

Either way, look for a packed house. The old gym holds less than 100 spectators—the new gym, around 1500. The difference will be in spectator and player pleasure—plus a big difference at the box office.

ACALANES tries its luck with the San Ramon Wolves in a pair of games at the Danville gym tonight. The Bees tip off at 7 p.m.

The Dons host John Swett of Crockett next Tuesday, and, like all midweek games, festivities will start with the Bees at 3:30 p.m.

That will be the last practice game for the Dons, as they host the Las Lomas Knights in the league opener next Friday, with play beginning in the lightweight division at 7 p.m.

LAS LOMAS plays a 7 o'clock game versus DeAnza of Richmond tonight at Las Lomas.

Then the Knights will try their luck with the Vallejo High Apaches next Tuesday in a 3:15 p.m. starter at Las Lomas.

Top Piano Duo To Play in SF

A pair of America's top pianists will be presented in the San Francisco Symphony all-Mozart concerts at the Opera House next Thursday evening, Friday afternoon and Saturday evening (Jan. 10-11-12).

San Franciscon Leon Fleisher and New Yorker Eugene Istomin perform together Mozart's duo Concerto in E Flat, K 865.

Separately, Istomin will be heard in the E Flat Concerto, K 271 and Fleisher in the C Major Concerto, K 503.

Conductor Enrique Jorda and the orchestra open with the Overture to "The Abduction from the Seraglio."

ORINDA RECREATION program now includes a social and sports club for teenagers. Making plans for a January 12 dance to be held at Pine Grove School are, left to right, Peggy Schevill, Linda McClain, Don McCleod, Gary Lucas and Judy Courtright. Gary is general chairman of the event. Linda and Don are on the decorating committee. This picture was taken at the club's organizational meeting at Pine Grove School December 20. Most of the teenagers in the club are from Miramonte High School. The club is under the general guidance of Frank Isola, Orinda recreational director. —Sun photo by Gerry Meeder

Down the Slope

Not Much Snow, But Lots of Fun for All

By VI WHITE

Most reports before the holidays were unfavorable to us skiers, but in spite of the lack of new snow most of the slopes were definitely skiable and the gay lodge parties up to expectations.

Over at Heavenly Valley on Saturday Charles "Chuck" Jones from the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church group rode the rope tow at the top of the mountain after using the chair lift to it. The famous ski instructor Stein Eriksen and staff were on hand to give lessons to those in need.

The slope was good and skiers and sightseers marveled at the beautiful view of Lake Tahoe while riding down to the base of the hill. Chuck and his bus load of friends were spending four days at the Conference Grounds at Zephyr Cove, Nevada.

THE NEW BALL AND Chain Ski Club of Walnut Creek has a cabin near Heavenly Valley at Bijou and ski there or at the Sierra Ski Ranch on Highway 50 at Echo Summit. The 12 couples meet the second Monday of the month at various homes and show pictures and discuss plans for future trips.

Officers of the club are Gerry Little, president; Richard Amorde, vice-president; Jim Garner, treasurer, and Chris Armstrong, secretary.

Members are Virginia and Rich Amorde, Chris and Gill Armstrong, Delores and Rodge Cullen, Carolyn and Frank Foster, Joanne and Earnie Falentine, Joanne and Jim Garner, Pat and Al Kennerly, Sann and Gerry Little, Joyce and Ken Worley, Joe and Twilda Swicegood, Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Olin and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Becker.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jacobs and daughters Marsia and Candy spent several days at the Oakland Ski Club lodge on Donner Summit and drove over to see the new Squaw Valley lodge and skied at Granlibachen and Sugar Bowl.

The snow was good for skiing at both areas and especially on Mt. Lincoln. The new Sugar Bowl chair lift was operating and although it is a double chair, we rode alone as skis had to be carried and put on at the top. Sunday the clouds looked promising but no snow came so the rocks and twigs had to be dodged again.

The new area will be unlimited when enough snow comes.

Several people were in the Long Barn area, among them Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Knudsen. The pool there is kept heated all winter and should be nice to use after ice skating or skiing.

The Acalanes Ski Club is going by bus to the Twining Lodge January 18-19-20 and will ski at Dodge Ridge. Newly elected officers are President Wally Marsh, Vice-president Bob Mossman, Treasurer Sue Fink, Secretary Heidi Devin and class representatives: Senior, Denise Comerford and Brett Merner; junior, Karen Jeffries and Phil Branch; sophomore, Michele McKeegan and Peder Knudsen; freshman, Karen Miller and Bob Lockey.

FACULTY ADVISOR is Miss Margaret Nicholson, science department head at the school.

A new radio program for skiers can be heard on KNBC on Thursdays at 6:30 p.m. "Kit" Carson White is commentator and will give the latest snow reports and road conditions as well as coming events at various resorts and club activities.

Jack Samples, instructor at Soda Springs has a TV program on Channel 3 in Sacramento and will have outstanding personalities from the skiing world from time to time.

This weekend Heavenly Valley is scheduling its Miss Snow Fun of 1957 contest and the Junior Races are to be held at Mammouth Mountain.

Mrs. Brown Invited to Join Ike's Parade

Mrs. Freda Brown, presently of Pacheco, but formerly of Lafayette and Walnut Creek, has been invited to ride in President Eisenhower's inaugural parade in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Brown owns many horses, among them the most outstanding parade horse in Northern California. When she rides in parades she uses a saddle complete with solid silver pommel and solid silver decorations.

Her palomino has won over 30 trophies during the past year as the outstanding parade horse entry.

Mrs. Brown was also invited to ride in the Rose Parade in Pasadena, but declined.

The Browns were in business in Lafayette for 30 years and in Walnut Creek for 25 years previous to settling on their ranch in Pacheco.

Rites for Dr. Fayram Held at St. Stephen's

Services for Dr. Richard A. Fayram, 36, the famed Orinda nuclear physicist who died December 25, were held two days later at St. Stephen's Episcopal in Orinda.

Dr. Fayram, who was found dead Christmas morning from complications that set in from a case of chickenpox, resided at 81 Sleepy Hollow Lane.

Prep Wrestling Assumes Importance as New Sport

By ERWIN MATTSON

IT HAS BEEN ALL QUIET on the prep front except for scattered practice sessions in basketball, but all that will be changed in the very near future, now that school has reopened and a full schedule of actiivty is ahead.

It will be basketball and wrestling until February ,when spring sports get ready with the beginning of workouts in track, baseball, tennis, swimming and golf.

Wrestling is a new acivity, with Pacifica, Diablo, Pleasant Hill and Acalanes having teams.

Pacifica has taken tremendous interest in the mat game, according to reports, and is the "team to beat," not only because of top interest but also because of added experience, as this school had a team last year.

Wrestling is very popular in the Midwest, where state tournaments are held.

Chances are that a state tournament in California is very unlikely. For some reason the powers - that - be frown upon state meets in anything other than track. Other sports have tried to promote tourneys, without success.

Getting back to wrestling—it is one of the best body-developers and involves a great deal of skill. It is a contact sport and one which we probably need, in view of the recent Olympic Games results.

Russia outscored us in the games' total, and rather badly. Our alibi was that many of the points came in unimportant or minor events.

It is the opinion of many, however, that we should step up our physical training program and widen its scope.

The outbreak of World War II found many of our youth woefully lacking in physical development and condition. Intensive and expensive programs were set up by the military to correct the situation. It was expensive not only in money but also in the time it took to get ready. St. Mary's as a Navy Pre-Flight was one of such schools.

A recent survey on physical fitness gave some rather startling results when comparing European and American youth.

A large group was tested on basic physical tests. The tests were failed by 10 per cent of the Europeans and by 50 per cent of the Americans.

Some people pass it off by saying casually, 'So what?—what's the difference?" or "We won the war, didn't we?"

Frankly, such reasoning is difficult to follow, and it's a lazy way of shrugging off a crucial problem.

We spent thousands of dollars on our children's health—teeth checkups, shots, vitamin pills, etc.—then fail to stress physical conditioning.

No one can argue with much conviction that physical well-being isn't important. Almost everyone will agree that mental well being is important—notice I said almost everyone, because you probably can't get everyone to agree on any one thing!

IT IS A PROVEN FACT that physical and mental well-being, to a large extent, go hand in hand, each important to the other.

President Eisenhower recently called a meeting to deal with the problems of physical welfare of our youth, after studying the results of the physical test given to the European and American groups.

Out of the conference came a lot of good common sense observations.

It was pointed out that our diets could be greatly improved, with better balanced meals and less stress on vitamin pills.

It was recommended that more walking be done—it was even suggested that school kids might be better off if they walked to school rather than take the bus or the well-driven car.

Also, it was felt that in general it might be better to walk to the store and carry the packages home.

BICYCLE RIDING is a grand exercise and a good mode of travel. But for most of us it doesn't have enough "horsepower" and getaway, plus the fact that it takes physical effort.

Chances are we won't change our ways very much very soon—but we will pay a price for it in the end, and in so doing get an answer for those who shrug their shoulders and say, "What's the difference?" It's like the kid who says, "Why brush my teeth" and who finds out why when it's too late.

TWO DATES to keep in mind are February 1 and February 6. On February 1 it's the big college basketball game to be played at St. Mary's College, when the St. Mary's Gaels play Loyola from Los Angeles way.

The game (sponsored by The Sun in cooperation with St. Mary's College, admits dad for $1, with all the kids he wants to bring "on the house." Read elsewhere in this issue for further details.

Gaels Face COP Tonight In Opener

St. Mary's Galloping Gaels return to the hardwood tonight at 8 p.m. to open the California Basketball Association league play with the College of Pacific Tigers.

The game will be played in the St. Mary's College gym.

Jim Weaver's Gaels began practice Monday after a long Christmas lay off. The coaching staff reports that it will take a lot of hard work to get the Gaels into the form which helped them defeat University of Wyoming's Cowboys 73 to 53 in Laramie on December 18.

St. Mary's enters Friday night's fray with a 3 won, 4 lost record against the Tigers' 5-5 record. The Tigers, who were preseason favorites to win the C.B.A. crown, should be favored over the sophomore studded Gael squad.

A freshman game between the Gaelets and the C.O.P. freshmen will tip off at 6 p.m.

Probable starting lineups for both varsity squads are as follows:

St. Mary's — Odell Johnson (6.1) F; LaRoy Doss (6.6) F; Mike Carosielli (6.6) C; Dick Sigaty (6.4) G; Andy Sloan (5.10).

Union Oil Co. Increases Ads In Newspapers

Union Oil Company of California, one of the nation's largest advertisers, has canceled all billboard advertising and will increase substantially its newspaper campaigns in both dailies and selected weeklies, according to Reese H. Taylor, chairman of the board.

Among the weekly newspapers selected to carry Union Oil's advertising in 1957 is The Sun.

Taylor revealed Union Oil's plans for 1957 include use of an impressive list of selected weekly newspapers in the seven western states.

"We are initiating this test campaign in the weeklies because we believe such newspapers in the West are thoroughly read and are an effective medium to reach a large portion of the motoring public.

"Weeklies will be used to supplement our company's advertising in those areas where Union Oil has service stations or marketing outlets and which are not covered by daily newspapers.

Christian Science

The divine answer to humans needs will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Christian Science churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda, and 1347 Yocust Street, Walnut Creek. Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill holds its services at the Hillcrest Congregational Church on Gregory Lane.

Readings from the King James Version of the Bible and correlative selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will comprise the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God."

From Phillippians (4:19) the following will be read: "My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus."

Correlative passages to be read from Science and Health include the following (494:10-11): "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need."
